ABOUT ME

I was born and raised in Brooklyn, NY. I moved to Israel in 2011 and spent several years both learning and teaching in yeshiva. In the summer of 2024, I began a full-stack web development course. Being technologically adept and equipped with an analytical mind, I feel that I can excel in a wide range of fields, with web development simply being my chosen entry point. I am a hard worker, quick learner, and excellent communicator who will bring high ROI to any company that hires me.
